Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 21 November 2003.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 5, 6 and 10 are pending in the application.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc. The abstract is written in the format of a claim and contains portions of a withdrawn claim 1. Appropriate correction is required.

3. On page 1 of the specification, please update the information of the parent application, U.S. application serial numbers 09/483069, to include the patent number.

Drawings

4. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: Figs. 3A and 3B. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 2194

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 5, 6 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,125,391 to Meltzer et al. [hereinafter Meltzer].

6. As to claim 5, Meltzer teaches a method of converting ERP data in a database [a database 706; col. 29, lines 25 – 53] managed by an ERP application [enterprise functions; col. 23, line 63 – col. 24, line 54] and accessed through an ERP API and ERP Message Agent API (MAAPI) [ESIS listener API; col. 27, lines 8 – 25] to strongly typed data in Java objects [converting XML instances to and from the corresponding JAVA objects; col. 32, lines 1 – 13] comprising the steps of:

(a) reading a XML file containing said definition of said Java objects and their attributes [receiving a document at the network interface (step 400); col. 26, lines 18 –

40]; or HyperText Markup Language (HTML) statements which specifies presentation format;

(b) parsing each of said declarations and HTML statements to identify definitions of objects and their attributes [parser identifies the document type (401) in response to the business interface definition....the document is parsed (step 402); col. 26, lines 18 – 40]; and

(c) creating said respective objects with their attributes [XML logic structures are translated into JAVA objects which carry the data of the XML element as well as methods associated with the data such as get and set functions; col. 26, lines 18 – 40];

(d) populating said objects with data from said ERP data [output data of the service is produced (step 1207). The output is converted to the document format, for example from a JAVA format; col. 83, lines 28 – 45].

7. As to claim 6, Meltzer teaches the creating and populating of Java objects step comprises the steps of:

(a) opening a connection through said ERP API to said ERP Message Agent API (MAAPI) [col. 9, lines 45 – 55];

(b) setting said Application object identifier [col. 82, lines 26 – 60], username [col. 9, line 55 – col. 10, line 29] and password using said MAAPI [col. 12, lines 5 – 23];

(c) setting search key values (d) instructing said ERP application to process said current object [col. 30, lines 36 – 53];

Art Unit: 2194

(e) for every scroll level creating a corresponding object and setting its attributes with data from said ERP Application data [col. 11, line 10 – col. 12, line 5]; and,

(f) closing said connection to said ERP API [col. 84, lines 15 – 34].

8. As to claim 10, Meltzer teaches an article of manufacture for use in a computer system comprising a computer readable medium for storing statements or instructions for use in execution in a computer in accordance with the method of any of claims 5 or 6 [col. 5, lines 40 – 56].

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Patent No. 6,226,675 discloses systems and protocols to support transactions among diverse clients coupled to a network.

U.S. Patent No. 6,636,831 discloses server with middleware for converting legacy information received from the business applications or the ERP system into a format usable by the server suite.

U.S. Patent No. 7,197,741 discloses a method for interfacing with an enterprise resource planning system.
